P&M Volunteer FAQ

Why do I have to pay a Volunteer Fee? Can it be waived?

Volunteer Fees help IndyHumane cover the cost of Volunteer T-Shirts and the Volunteer Database that helps track and schedule Volunteer hours. As a nonprofit with limited resources, we are unable to waive this fee for applicants.

If I am staff for a client interested in volunteering, am I also required to pay the Volunteer Fee?

Yes, you are also required to pay the Volunteer Fee. You are considered Volunteers as you are required to complete training, wear the Volunteer designated t-shirt, and actively volunteer alongside your client.

IndyHumane asks for a minimum donation of 4-8 hours/month from Volunteers. If I cannot meet that monthly commitment, may I still volunteer?

You must donate some time each month in order to stay active in our program. You will not be eligible for Volunteer Perks unless you meet the commitment of at least 8-Hours each month. We like for our Volunteers to stay in the loop about our shelter and the animals benefit more by working with Volunteers who know their personalities and can communicate with potential adopters about them. You are likely to be a more effective Volunteer if you commit to the minimum hours asked of you.

IndyHumane asks Volunteers to commit to a weekly or bi-weekly schedule. Is this necessary?

Our Volunteer Positions require a weekly commitment and set schedules in order to provide the animals the best care and support. This requirement is needed to ensure quality training and to maintain a consistent level of volunteer coverage. We do allow for vacations and needed days off.

Am I only able to donate 4-8 hours/month?

We ask for a minimum donation of 4-8 hours per month. You are welcome to donate more if you are being productive. Note: There are advanced positions that will require at least an 8-Hour or 12-Hour monthly commitment.

As an adult, may I volunteer without my child partner?

Adults are welcome to volunteer without the child. The child may never volunteer without the adult. Both partners must donate time each month to stay active in the database.

When are Volunteer Shifts?

Volunteer Shifts are available: Between 9am-8pm Monday, Thursday, and Friday, 9am-7pm Tuesday and Wednesday, 9am-6pm on Saturday, and 9am-4pm on Sunday at 2-hour intervals. Some positions require longer shift times.

I just want to walk dogs or pet cats. Why does that require so much training?

Surprisingly, spending time with shelter animals involves more than just walking the dogs or petting the cats. We want to make sure the animals consistently receive a high-quality level of care and stay as healthy as possible. To do this, we need to educate our Volunteers about safety procedures and protocols that are currently in place to limit the transfer of disease within our shelter. We also want to educate our volunteers on how to correctly interact with our shelter animals in order to reduce stress on the animals.

In addition, some of our Volunteers are expected to aid in assisting Patrons during their shift. We want to make sure our volunteers have the information they need to assist customers and help with visitations.

All volunteers attend the specific training required for their volunteer position. Volunteer training includes the tasks required for the position, safety procedures and protocols required, and animal handling.

May I volunteer in more than one area?

We require that you start off in one area and volunteer consistently (meeting the monthly requirement of 8 hours/month) for at least 6 months after which you may train in another area.

At what point am I eligible for Volunteer Perks?

Volunteers who meet our monthly requirement of 8-Hours/month are eligible for special discounts for IndyHumane Services (Retail, Vaccine Clinics, and Adoptions). You become eligible for Volunteer Perks after you complete training and volunteer consistently for at least 3 months in a row.

Can I be a Volunteer if I have a criminal record?

IndyHumane does not accept volunteers with a criminal record in relation to (1) sexual offense, (2) violent crimes or (3) animal neglect or cruelty. IndyHumane requires all persons applying to volunteer to state any past criminal record and reserves the right to conduct a background check on any volunteer.

If I am injured while volunteering, does IndyHumane cover the costs of my medical treatment?

No. Volunteers are responsible for their own medical care. We have First Aid Kits available on site for minor medical issues.

Can family members or friends come with me when I volunteer?

Minors may not have anyone shadow them. Family members and friends who are at least 18 years of age may shadow Adult Volunteers, after Volunteers complete training and volunteer meeting the minimum monthly requirement at least 6 months in a row, once to see what volunteering may be like, but these situations must be pre-approved by the Director of Volunteer Services and the proper paperwork must be completed before hand. They may shadow you just once.

Do I need to have experience to volunteer?

No prior experience is needed to volunteer in our entry level positions, but we do require all volunteers to have good communication skills and a willingness to learn. We supply all the training needed for each entry-level position.

Some of our advance positions (photography and grooming as examples) require professional training/experience.

If I already have experience at another shelter, do I have to complete all of the training required at IndyHumane?

All shelters are separate and our training and opportunities are different. You must complete all training required at IndyHumane regardless of previous experience and training.

How long will it take me to get through all the training required?

Training is set up so you can complete it in 4 weeks. If you miss a step of training, you may have options to set up one-on-one training or you may need to wait until the following month to complete training.

After I complete training, am I assigned animals to work with?

We ask Volunteers to work with animals they feel comfortable with. Spending time with animals you are not comfortable with may lead to negative issues.

We also know Volunteers have their favorites, but we ask you to be mindful of animals that clearly have not had a lot of interaction. Throughout training you will learn how we track what animals have had interaction.

What are my main duties when working with animals?

Volunteers are expected to help keep our shelter tidy. This means all are responsible for spot cleaning cages, kennel areas, and yards.

Volunteers are expected to do their best, while adhering to shelter policies, to make animals more adoptable. This can be done by teaching basic commands, grooming, and speaking with customers about the characteristics of animals being worked with.

Volunteers are also expected to report any medical or behavior changes noticed in animals to the appropriate staff members in a timely manner.

May I take photos of the animals and post them on social networking sites?

You may take photos of adoptable animals and post photos and descriptions on social networking sites as long as the photo and info you post are appropriate and show IndyHumane in a good light. You may not take photos and post photos of animals that are not yet available for adoption.

How can I protect my animals and family members at home from possible spreading of diseases I may encounter while volunteering?

Volunteers should change out of clothes worn while volunteering before going home and interacting with pets and family members. This includes the shoes worn as well.

Wearing gloves and washing hands/arms while/after interacting with shelter animals, doing laundry/dishes, and touching any supplies used should increase your protection.

Lint rollers are available for use at the shelter.

Volunteers should never interact with animals they are not cleared to spend time with.

What diseases/viruses affect animal shelter most commonly?

Volunteers should research Parvovirus, Panleukopenia, and Calici. These are viruses/diseases most commonly seen in shelters.
